This document is designed to help officers at the chapter and state level plan and format a successful Program of Work. A Program of Work is important because it allows a chapter or state to plan a year of activities and easily identify deadlines. At the left is a sample. Below are some tips for creating a Program of Work:

1. When creating a Program of Work, it is very important to list deadlines for all tasks. This will hold officers and members accountable for their tasks, and ensure the tasks will be completed.
2. It is important that either your chapter advisor or state advisor works with you to create this document, because you will need their support/approval when making decisions and setting goals.
3. A Programs of Work should be well-rounded. It should involve more than one category. A good program includes fundraising, leadership activities, community service, membership recruitment, and chapter membership participation.
4. Equally distributing all tasks among the officers and chapter members allows everyone to be involved and ensure one officer is not doing all of the work for the team.
5. If a task involves doing something at school, be sure to first talk with the advisor and the school administration. Once the school gives permission for the activity, then the team can begin working out details.
6. Creating the program of work should be a group effort. This should not just be one officer's ideas, but the entire team coming together to create a shared vision for the year.
